31ST YEAR—NO. 36.

GRAND JURY WANTS PLACES OF BUSINESS CLOSED ON SUNDAYS.

In session all of last week, the Grand Jury of the Circuit Court for Hancock County adjourned Saturday, after examining 149 witnesses and returning 30 indictments. W. H. Kranley, well-known resident of Lake Shore, was foreman.

The report embodied several recommendations, some minor, others of major importance. The report says there have been several complaints about officers not keeping their offices open at the courthouse, "which has caused considerable inconvenience to the taxpayers of the county."

Further the report says: "We have been able to return several indictments for the violation of the prohibition laws, but we find that some of the officers of the county have not been as vigilant in their attempt to enforce this law as it should be."

Sunday closing of places of business comes in, too, and the comment thereto is unmistakable. The Grand Jury says it called attention to this during the last sitting of that body, and nothing relative thereto seems to have been done. It is asked that the matter be attended to, that proper efforts be exercised to enforce the law.

The report is not only interesting but salty, and is published herewith in full, a copy from the original, as follows:

CIRCUIT COURT.

August Term, A. D. 1922.

State of Mississippi, Hancock County, City of Bay St. Louis.

To Honorable D. M. Graham, Judge of the Second Circuit Court District:

We, the grand jury empaneled at and for the regular August, 1922, term of the Circuit Court in and for Hancock County, beg leave to make this report:

We have been in session for a term of six days; have examined 149 witnesses and have returned 30 indictments.

We have examined the courthouse and jail and the books and accounts of the public officers. The courthouse seems to be in good condition, but we find that the present grand jury has been hampered in its work to some extent by the fact that there are no window shades in the room assigned to the books and accounts of the public officers of the county.

These shades could be supplied without much expense to the county, and same would not only make the work of the grand jury more pleasant, but would enable them to do more work. We recommend that the jail be ceiled with metal ceiling, and that this be done at once, so that same may be made safer for the keeping of prisoners therein; and that the toilets therein be repaired for the comfort of the prisoners.

We also examined the accounts of the public officers of the county, and find that the Chancery Clerk, who by virtue of his office is county auditor, has failed and neglected to properly audit the accounts of the Tax Collector's office for some previous years, but that said accounts are being properly audited at the present time and all such work is being promptly done. We suggest that the Board of Supervisors see to it that the county auditor make such audit of the accounts that he has failed in the past to make, and that such work be done without further delay.

There have been several complaints made to the grand jury of the officers of the county not keeping their respective offices opened as provided by law, which has caused considerable inconvenience to the taxpayers of the county, and we urge that the officers keep their offices open hereafter during the hours provided by law and that they be in such offices personally or have competent deputies to attend to the business of the people.

Through the co-operation of some of the law-abiding citizens of the county, and some of the officers, we have been able to return several indictments for the violation of the prohibition laws, but we find that some few of the officers of the county have not been as vigilant in their attempt to enforce this law as they should be. We find, too, that in some parts of the county places of business are allowed to be kept open on Sunday, and that although this matter was called to the attention of the sheriff and police officers of the City of Bay St. Louis by the last grand jury, they have done nothing toward enforcing the law covering such acts, and we recommend, that such officers be indicted by the next grand jury unless proper efforts are made by them to enforce this law.

We recommend, too, that the Board of Supervisors of the county make provision for working the county prisoners on the public roads of the county, as we believe that this would be a great financial advantage to the county as well as affording a proper means for the punishment of prisoners.

S. J. Craft, who has been considered an important witness, has failed to appear before this grand jury, although he was summoned to appear before the last grand jury, but did not appear; was summoned to appear before the grand jury at this time, as afterwards attached and the attachment served upon him by the proper officer, who relying upon his promise to appear, did not place him under bond. We recommend that he be attached and placed under a good bond to appear before the next grand jury.

We desire to thank your honor for his able and instructive charge, and to thank the other officers of the court for their co-operation. And, now having finished our labors, we make this our final report, and ask that we be discharged.

Respectfully,
W. H. KRANKLEY,
Foreman.

BUREAU OF CHILD WELFARE TO WORK IN HANCOCK COUNTY

Through Instrumentality of Dr. John A. Mead, County Health Officer, Director General F. J. Underwood, M. D., of State Welfare Board, Appears Before Board of Supervisors—Hancock County Agrees to Put Work in at Once.

SUPERVISORS APPROPRIATES $2,300.00 TO CONDUCT WORK.

Greatest Blessing to Children of County—Thanks to Board's Progressiveness and Liberality—Supervisors Make It Possible For the Conduct of Such Work in Hancock County—List Showing What Work Will Consist Of.

The Board of Supervisors of Hancock County, in regular session this week, passed an order appropriating $2,300.00 for the defraying of the expense of adopting the activities of the State Bureau of Child Welfare operating under the auspices of the Mississippi State Board of Health. This is under authority of Chapter 203, Statutes 1918.

This will prove a boon and blessing to every boy and girl in Bay St. Louis and the balance of Hancock County. It will mean the proper precaution from disease to every boy and girl.

Accompanied by Dr. John A. Mead, county health officer; F. J. Underwood, M. D., director-general of the State Bureau of Child Welfare, appeared before the Board of Supervisors in regular session this week and presented the work and plan, and what it meant. Members of the Board readily saw the advantage of adopting the work for Hancock, and an order was unanimously passed for its adoption.

What is the health standard for your boy, for your girl? Do you know? Well, here it is—laid down by the State Welfare Board. This will be the standard for Hancock county:

Ears—(a) Hearing normal. (b) No evidence of disease or inflammation. Eyes—(a) Vision normal or corrected by glasses. (b) No evidence of disease or inflammation. (c) No adenoids. (b) No other obstruction.

Throat—(a) No disease or enlarged tonsils. (b) No inflammation. Mouth—(a) No unfilled cavities in teeth. (b) Teeth clean, showing evidence of daily care. (c) Gums healthy.

Skin—(a) No eruption. (b) Scalp clean. (c) Scalp free from pediculosis. Lungs—(a) No evidence of disease. (b) Chest expansion at least two inches. Vaccination—(Small pox) Good scar or certificate of recent vaccination.

Nutrition—(a) Weight normal or not more than ten pounds overweight. (b) Free from hookworm as shown by neg. report.

In addition to this standard of health, The Echo asked Dr. Mead and Dr. Underwood what would the program of work consist of, which the gentlemen replied: "Physical examination of school children, collecting and filing health and weight records, inspection of school buildings and premises, forming health centers, baby pre-school work, establishing clinics and needed, distribution of health literature, organizing child welfare committees, nutrition work, health lectures, exhibiting moving pictures of educational nature, follow up work by public health nurse, presentation of health buttons, newspaper service, etc."

Another unit or phase of the work comes under the heading of "Nutrition," as follows:

1. To supervise generally the nutrition activities of the nurses or others qualified in the formation and development of a nutrition program, following the physical examination of school children, pre-school children and babies, in those counties having child welfare units, rural sanitation units, full time health officers, active nursing services and upon request other counties and communities as time permits.

The general program is to embrace:

1. The regular weighing and recording on the weight records of all school children.

2. Cultivating the milk drinking habit for all children; milk delivery at school and homes.

3. School lunches, improving of those brought from home, and starting hot lunches at school.

4. Organizing and conducting "growth classes" and "mother-child conferences" for underweight children and babies.

5. Educational work, talks to parents, children, schools, clubs and other organizations.

6. Distribution of literature.

7. Organization of local committees.

8. What we hope to accomplish:

(a) More complete birth registration,

COUNTY CLERK KERGOSEIN RETURNS FROM TRIP.

Visited the Famous Mayo Bros. World-Wide Surgeons, and Their Corps of Diagnosticians—Tells of Rochester, Minn.

Dr. A. A. Kergosien, clerk of the courts, accompanied by his son, Mr. Laurence Kergosien, returned home Thursday evening from a visit to Chicago, St. Paul and Rochester, Minn., at the latter place visiting the famous Mayo Bros. and their staff of expert diagnosticians in the interest of his health.

Dr. Kergosien says Rochester, Minn., is a most interesting place. The Mayo Bros., world-famous surgeons, to whom people from Europe come for treatment, practically own the town inasmuch as they have the largest interests there. Its population is about 15,000 and there are there from time to time about 15,000 patients and visitors. The sanitarium or hospital is a building of many stories. The faculty of experts is headed by Dr. Mayo. Here examination of patients is divided into as many sections as there are specialists for the different ailments. And the patient goes from section to section until he is thoroughly examined. Then all reports are turned into the section from which the patient started and summary is made for final report. The cost of an examination is generally $60.00.

The Mayo Bros. own the two large hotels of the place. One of the buildings is of eleven stories, and is connected with the sanitarium by means of a tunnel. In addition to these hotels, however, there are many other smaller hotels and places where private lodging and boarding may be had, and the price is quite reasonable. For instance, one of the smaller hotels charges $2.00 per day for room, excellent food, with use of bath, and hot and cold running water in room.

Coaches as much as possible in and about the city are obliterated. All vehicles are rubber tired and motor driven. There is a beautiful and spacious park on the outskirts of the city. Here of evenings the band discourses music and dancing until midnight. Dr. Kergosien was impressed with the splendid organization and system of these world-wide famed surgeons and physicians, and the modern and improved methods they employ. But, being a physician himself, he was asked: Why come to Rochester, since you have at New Orleans at Tulane, the John Hopkins of the South? This was indeed a tribute to New Orleans and the South.

The trip was a long and tiresome one, said the doctor. He stopped at Chicago, where he is personally acquainted. He received much information, and after recovering from the fatigue of his trip will benefit by his visit.

BOURGEOIS-HUDSON.

Popular Young Man From Bay St. Louis Takes Bride at Gulfport—To Make Home in This City.

Mr. Hugh Roger Bourgeois, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Bourgeois, of Bay St. Louis, was married in Gulfport Wednesday afternoon, to Miss Mae Hudson, of that city.

The ceremony took place at the First Baptist Church, Rev. L. L. Linder, resident pastor, officiating. Following a brief reception at the home of the bride's family, the young couple departed for Mobile, Ala., where they will spend a few days before returning to this city. They will make their home in Bay St. Louis with Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Bourgeois, in Main street.

The bride, who is a charming and accomplished young lady, is no stranger here. For one year she was a member of the faculty of the Vevand city school, and her charming personality won for her many friends.

The groom is a well-known young man of this community; of sterling character and unimpeachable integrity. He is associated with his father in the mercantile business, and well worthy of the hand of the young lady in whose keeping she has placed her future.

The best wishes of a wide circle of friends and acquaintances here and elsewhere is extended the young couple.

DEATH OF MRS. CHAS. H. TORSCH.

Estimable Lady, Formerly a Frequent Visitor to Bay St. Louis, Passes Away at Home in Baltimore, Md.

Mrs. Charles H. Torsch, widow of President Torsch, of the Peerless Oyster Company, died at her home in Baltimore, Md., on Tuesday, September 8th. Her death was sudden, and she had suffered one or more strokes since January of the present year. Her funeral took place the following day in Baltimore. One son survives, Mr. C. B. Torsch, who has visited this city on several occasions.

Mrs. Torsch was no stranger in Bay St. Louis. Practically every winter for a number of years she visited here in company with her husband, who would reside here for several months in the interest of his manufacturing business.

This announcement will be received with much sorrow. The deceased was a most excellent woman, cultured and refined, and endowed with many of the finer attributes.

decrease the number of cases of ophthalmia neonatorum, blindness, maternal invalidism, and infant and maternal deaths due to ignorance, carelessness and neglect before, during and after child birth.

The value of such work, country-wide, cannot be overestimated. Many will benefit directly thereby. Thanks to the State and to the local members of the Board of Supervisors for this magnificent work to be introduced into Hancock county.

Board Appropriates Sum of $2,300.00 For Suppression of Disease and Promotion of Better Health—The Work To Be Under State Auspices, As Per Authority of Chapter 203, Laws 1918—Committee Appointed to Appraise Land Values Makes Report.

State of Mississippi, Hancock County, City of Hancock.

Be it remembered that a regular meeting of the Board of Supervisors of Hancock County was begun and held in and for said county and State, at the courthouse thereof in the City of Bay St. Louis, on the first Monday of September, same being the 4th day of said month, and the time and place for holding said meeting. There were present to-wit: Jos. L. Favre, Joseph P. Moran, W. E. Thigpen, Calvin Shaw (Mr. Weston was excused), members: A. A. Kergosien, Clerk, and E. Van Whitfield, Sheriff.

The offer of W. P. Lee, Jr., to pay 10 cents a tire, to be made out of the dead timber standing on Section 16, Township 15 S., Range 15, was accepted, said W. P. Lee, Jr., to begin cutting said trees at once, and account to this Board each month.

It appearing to the Board that Mrs. Jane C. Hoyer was assessed erroneously with a poll tax, which was paid by her for $2.00, she being 69 years, said assessment being erroneous, and that said payment was made by her under protest, it is ordered that she be refunded said $2.00 and that said amount be paid out of the School Fund.

It is ordered by the Board that there be appropriated out of the General Fund of the County $2,300.00, or so much thereof as might be necessary, for the purpose of the control eradication and suppression of contagious or infectious diseases and in the promotion of betterment of public health, as per Chapter 203, Laws 1918.

Warrants to be issued as bills are presented and approved by the Board in manner provided by law.

Whereas, it is necessary to borrow money for Hancock County, for school purposes to meet the expenses of the current year now therefore, Resolved, That it is the intention of the Board of Supervisors of said county, on October 2, 1922, to borrow $19,733.50 for the school fund in anticipation of taxes for the year 1922, to defray the expenses of said year and to issue the negotiable notes of said county, maturing not later than March 1st, 1923, and bear a "not more than 6 per cent" annual interest.

The Clerk of this Board will publish a certified copy of this order as required by law, so that the adult taxpayers of said county may protest if they desire.

Ordered by the Board that the following accounts be allowed and paid out of the General County Fund, as per bills on file, examined and approved:

DON'T GIVE UP.

Bay St. Louis children are back in school again, and again they need all the encouragement our people can give. For our part, we never hear of a school boy getting a poor grade, or failing, but we think of Abe Lincoln. He was a young man when he ran for the Legislature, and was defeated. He entered business with a worthless partner and failed. It took him seventeen years to pay off his debts. He then ran for Congress, and was beaten. He then tried to get a land office appointment and he experienced another disappointment. He became a candidate for the United States Senate, and was defeated. In 1856 he became a candidate for vice president, and was snowed under. Two years later he was defeated by Douglas. And then he ran for the Presidency of the United States. Every school-boy knows the result of that race, and the rest of the story, and every school boy should recall Lincoln's failures when he is down in his studies. For what Abe Lincoln did after repeated failure any boy can do, when he, too, has failed to reach his mark.

And many a man with a laugh coming to him doesn't see it until after it is gone.

A man isn't necessarily bashful simply because he dislikes to meet his obligations.

Maybe they call us the "ultimate consumer" because we ultimately get it in the neck.

It's all right to let Europe alone. Then maybe she'll not let outsiders in on her next war.

Figures show the use of hair dye is increasing. The old gray hair ain't what it used to be.

The man who says he's going to "think it over" merely means that he's going to ask his wife.

When we read of cabbage rotting in the field it reminds us of the last five-cent cigar we got hold of.

When a man sits out on the front porch with his shoes off it isn't hard to tell who's boss at his house.

It has been our observation that the man with a wooden leg gets along better than a man with a wooden head.

We've always noticed that nothing pleases the average man more than to be told that he is working too hard.

We used to think that the main idea of a college was to fix it so a fellow wouldn't have to work for a living.

We see in a daily paper the statement that paper money wears out rapidly. Yes, and it also passes out rapidly.

Possibly the reason taxes are not reduced is because public officials fear the people couldn't recover from the shock.

We heard a man say a few days ago that the reason women have better teeth than men is because they're in the open more.

Politicians in Washington claim they are capable of doing all sorts of ditty work when they admit they can run the coal mines.

One citizen recently sized it up by declaring that people are like watermelons. You can't tell a good one or a bad one from the outside.

An office seeker always pines for better times for the farmer, but the time he means is the time it takes the farmer to go and vote his ticket.

TO STOP GOUGING.

We sincerely hope that all this talk about investigating profiteering by some of the big coal operators in this country will result in something more than talk. Already the Federal government has come to realize that the people are being robbed openly and above board by some of the big mine operators, and if nothing comes of a probe then it's time to change our system of government from stern to stern and get away from politics long enough to have a general house-cleaning. Fining those who gouge the public doesn't do any good. They pay the fine and laugh in their sleeves—then turn around and gouge some more to get the money back they paid in a fine. If a few penitentiary sentences were handed out it would stop highway robbery by those who control that which the public must have for sustaining life. And if it isn't stopped pretty soon in the shape of some prison sentences the country will be in such shape that it will never recover.

THE BLUE LAWS.

Daily papers reaching Bay St. Louis are chronicling numerous instances in which the old-time "blue laws" are being enforced. Quite a few of the smaller towns of the country, and especially those where citizens are not on the very best of terms with each other, are bringing the old blue laws into effect, with the result that everything is being closed tight as a drum and life made as dull and monotonous as it is possible to make it.

Sunday observation along sane lines must be encouraged. No one who has the interest of his community at heart is going to argue in favor of or do anything to promote Sabbath desecration. And yet sensible people realize that there is such a thing as going to extremes. When business men of a community cease co-operating and start fighting, it is the worst thing that could happen for the whole town. Just because one makes a dollar needn't excite jealousy, because that dollar usually stays right around town and all the others have a chance at a part of it. But to send out word that a stranger is helpless if his auto breaks down, or he runs out of gasoline while he is traveling on Sunday, is a bad ad for any town. Strangers soon learn to shun that town, to grow sarcastic in their remarks about it, to belittle the enterprise of its citizens and in a dozen other ways give the entire community a black eye.

We want to urge church attendants—even greater than now. We want a quiet, peaceful, law-abiding community, not only on Sunday, but the other six days in the week as well. But we don't want any of our citizens to quit co-operating with each other long enough to lose their heads and imagine that the only way to make people good is to make them unhappy.

KEEPING HUBBY AT HOME.

We'll wager more than one woman is watching with interest the announcement that the Georgia Legislature is about to pass a law whereby every husband would have to secure the consent of his wife before he could leave the house at night. Such a law is being discussed and may, it is said, become effective within a short time.

Under this system, no doubt, friend wife would have to issue a passport to hubby when he wanted to go downtown for a while in the evening, and maybe, too, she would put the exact hours on that pass, the same becoming void if he failed to get back inside the house within the specified time. If she wanted to enjoy his companionship in the evening all she would need to do would be to issue an edict to the effect that "you're not going bye-bye tonight," and that would set him down at home for the entire evening with his newspaper or his book.

We can't help wondering how far this new reform will travel—and how many domestic fights it would cause if it actually became a law. Neither can we help wondering how far lawmakers in the future would go, if this one is passed. Already our State Legislatures are making pretty good headway at minding other people's business, but if a law like this was passed, where would they stop? If Georgia passes this bill and enforces it, then we are going to realize just what the old fellow meant when he said away back years ago that "hell" broke loose in Georgia.

THE LONGER NIGHTS.

We're getting right up to the season of longer nights, nights when we are going to spend more time in the house than we have during the pleasant evenings of the past few months. For that reason it is not out of place to offer a suggestion as to how to while away, and with profit to yourself and family, the longer evenings before you. We have studied the question and believe the solution lies in a bountiful and always fresh supply of reading matter—something in the reading line for every member of the family. In this connection we are in position to fit you out with clubbing propositions that cost but little, but which will bring many hours of happiness throughout the fall and winter. In connection with a year's subscription to your home paper we can, for a few additional cents, furnish you any magazine or paper printed in America. Don't put it off—each evening is getting longer. Come in and let us tell you how we can solve your reading matter problem at little cost.

Theodore E. Bilbo, former governor of Mississippi, at Hattiesburg, stirred his audience to open resentment, when during an address in behalf of James K. Vardaman, candidate for the Democratic nomination for the United States Senate, he launched an attack on Woodrow Wilson. Led by a number of world war veterans, the crowd surged forward and silenced the speaker. He was forced off the platform, and the structure was then torn to pieces and set on fire. Bilbo was not allowed to resume his speech and soon thereafter took his departure from the city. No personal violence was offered to Bilbo, but the indignant citizens made it emphatic that they would not stand for any slandering of Woodrow Wilson.

Miss Libby Bokenfohr returned to her home in New Orleans, after a most delightful visit as the guest of the Bokenfohr home.

Mrs. B. Monteleone has the sympathy of the many friends of the family and the community in general on the occasion of the death of her father, which occurred in New Orleans a few days since.

Miss Beatrice Bourgeois has been entertaining her aunt, Mrs. A. Willcox, and cousin, Miss Dorothy Williams, of New Orleans, La., who have been spending part of the summer with her at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Bourgeois.

Mr. Joseph McKeown, Jr., of Kiln, Miss., left New Orleans Sunday over the Illinois Central for Chicago, where he will visit with his sister, Mrs. M. F. Beaudoine, before resuming his studies at Notre Dame University, Notre Dame, Ind.

Ferdinand Ramond, well known contractor and builder, of many years' experience to his credit, has been appointed inspector of the sea wall construction for Messrs. Shaw & Wolleben, engineers for the city, vice Inspector Murphy, who goes to South America on similar work.

William T. Nolan, member of the firm of Nolan & Torres, architects, of New Orleans, was a visitor to Bay St. Louis Wednesday evening in conference with the board of directors of the Bay Hotel Co. The company is planning improvements to the building.

Miss Dorothy Williams, who has been the charming guest of her relatives, Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Bourgeois, and their daughter Beatrice, has returned to her home in New Orleans. By her pleasant disposition she made a great number of friends who regretted her departure and hope sincerely to have her in their midst soon again.

Of the number of delightful fortnightly dances given by the Bay-Waveland Club this summer, none has proven more popular and enjoyable than the event of last Saturday evening. With each succeeding affair the popularity of the club increases. It is particularly noted that at no time have so many afternoon affairs been given as of late at the Club. The B.-W. seems to be filling a "long-felt" want. Another dance will take place this Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Killelea and interesting family have returned to New Orleans, after spending a while at the home of their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Ritayik, on the Waveland Beach Front. Master Killelea will matriculate at St. Paul's, Covington, La.

Attention is called to the advertisement of St. Stanislaus College, appearing elsewhere in this issue of The Echo, announcing opening date of 1922-23 session. Bro. Lambert, as president, and Bro. Peter, as vice president, have been reappointed by the order for the coming year. The register shows an unusually large number of students for the session.

Here is the biggest sweet potato on record. Manual Odum, residing on Bayou Galere, back of Bay St. Louis, on the stock farm owned jointly by Joseph Openheim and himself, planted the Porto Rican sweet potato on the 17th day of May and dug the crop on the 1st day of September. The potatoes are unusually large. One measured 8 feet and 8 inches in diameter. All are of abnormal size and are good eating, in fact, delicious. Mr. Odum tells The Echo he used little or no fertilizer, which proves the value of Bay St. Louis soil.

This is from official headquarters of the Spanish Trail, Hattiesburg, Ayres, director general, Gunter Hotel, San Antonio, Tex. "My dear Moreau: That was a great edition your paper about the OST trip. If I could have several dozen copies of same would send them to 'Western leaders to show them what our fellows are doing. Hope to make next annual convention in November (in Louisiana) the greatest highway meeting ever."

The Tea Room has proven tremendously popular this season, and has served as a vehicle of social intercourse. The service and the delicious confections and ices served through the heated term is best referred by the liberal patronage accorded and the unanimous satisfaction expressed by the large clientele. Mesdames Chapman and Nelson have proven respectively hostess par excellence. Owing to Mrs. Nelson's early departure, the business recently changed ownership and Mrs. W. L. Bourgeois will become the worthy successor, and assumed active ownership and executive with the end of September.

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Edwards and children, who have been spending the summer under the parental roof in Washington street, expect to be in their new home in New Orleans during the mid-winter. Mr. Edwards recently purchased a splendid building site in Pine street, where the construction of a modern two-story dwelling will shortly begin.

Much social activity is promised for this winter, and the Bay-Waveland Club promises to be the scene of many affairs—by the club and privately. Already two matrons are planning for a large Halloween ball at the club and preliminary preparations are already under way. It is whispered the club is considering a number of bridge and "500" parties, the series to extend over the winter.

BEST DUCK SHOT IN STATE OF LOUISIANA KILLED BY L. & N. TRAIN.

Engineer "Manly" Blaize, of Bay St. Louis, Says Victim Deliberately Defied Signals—Suicide Hinted.

Henry Hooks, 60, warden of the private game preserve at Michoud and regarded by hunters as the best duck shot in Louisiana, was instantly killed at 5:30 p. m. Monday when a hand car upon which he was returning to his home from New Orleans was struck by L. & N. passenger train No. 10 a half-mile west of Michoud.

Hooks usually devoted his time to hunting and trapping, but had been employed for some time as a watchman for the railroad at Gentilly, and went to and from his work on a hand car. He is said by Engineer Manly Blaize to have apparently become confused when the train approached behind him, for he made no effort to save himself.

"We were running at 45 miles an hour when I saw the handcar about 300 yards ahead," said Blaize. "I blew several short blasts on the whistle and thought the man would stop and get the car off the tracks, which he had plenty of time to do. His back was toward the train and when he did not heed, I signalled repeatedly. Finally he looked around, but instead of trying to get out of the way he put the brakes on the car and stood looking at the engine until it struck him."

Hooks' body, terribly mangled, was thrown to the side of the track. The handcar was demolished. The train was stopped, the body picked up and taken to Michoud Station. On the train were New Orleans commuters returning to their summer homes on the Mississippi Coast.

Friends of the Hooks family say his prowess as a hunter was due to his having been raised by an Indian tribe in the West. He had one of the best collection of firearms in the state and he once made the statement that with the guns and pistols in his house he could fire more than 500 times without reloading.

A son, Willie Hooks, section foreman for the L. & N., widely known as a hunter, died a few months ago. Funeral services for Mr. Hooks were held at 2 p. m. Monday in the Schoen undertakings parlors on Elysian Fields street, with interment in St. Roch Cemetery.—New Orleans Item.

Citizens of Pascagoula, led by the Pascagoula Rotary Club, are urging the city government to complete numbering of dwellings and business houses to meet requirements of the postoffice department for instituting free mail service. At least 85 per cent of the dwellings must be numbered and provided with receptacles for mail; and business houses must have receptacles or be open to carriers. These last named requirements must be done at the expense of the individual owner.

PETITION FOR PARDON.
To His Excellency Lee M. Russell Governor, and the Honorable Board of Pardons of the State of Mississippi.
We, the undersigned residents and citizens of Hancock County, respectfully petition and request you to pardon one Edward Curry, a colored boy, about twenty years of age, who pleaded guilty to grand larceny at the March term of the Circuit Court of Hancock County and was sentenced to a two year term in the penitentiary. He served some time in the county jail before the convening of the court in March. He was a good negro and on this occasion he with other boys broke into a store and stole nothing but smoking tobacco. It was a boyish affair and not of such a criminal nature to warrant such severe punishment.
Respectfully submitted,
R. W. WEBB, Mayor.

A Triumph for Value

IN the past two months Firestone has built and marketed more tires than in any similar period in its history.

This steadily increasing public preference is proof of the recognition by car owners of the greater values offered by Firestone. It is a tribute to Firestone men—all stockholders in the company—all actuated by the operating principle of Most Miles per Dollar.

The high average performance of Firestone Cords is without equal in the annals of tire making and is reflected by the general tendency to specify Firestone for hard service. Taxicab and bus lines, buying tires by the mile, are universally equipping with Firestone Cords.

There are many reasons for the high quality of Firestone tires but chief among the special manufacturing processes are double gum-dipping, thus eliminating internal friction by insulating each cord strand, and air-bag cure, insuring a well-balanced and perfectly shaped product.

Don't speculate in tires—you will find the right combination of price and quality in Firestone. Come in and let us tell you about the service these Cords are giving other car-owners whom you know.

LOUISIANA HANCOCK COUNTY.

Both City and County Give Nominees Splendid Majorities—Fenton Gives Vardaman Goose Egg.

Bay St. Louis and Hancock County have gone Democratic again. Hubert D. Stephens, candidate for the senatorial nomination to succeed Senator John Sharp Williams, received 620 votes in Hancock county, while Vardaman was given 307.

Secretary E. J. Gex, of the Hancock County Democratic Executive Committee, supplies The Echo with the following official returns:

Hubert Durrette Stephens voluntarily retired as a member of Congress from the second Mississippi District after having served five terms in the House of Representatives, in a majority of instances being returned without opposition. Prior to being elected a member of Congress he served for three years as district attorney for a circuit composed of eight counties. His resignation as district attorney was to accept the congressional nomination from the Second Mississippi District.

Mr. Stephens is 47 years old and has taken an active part in the political affairs of the State since he was a young man. He is a graduate of the University of Mississippi and was admitted to the bar when he attained his majority. He is the son of Judge Z. M. Stephens, of New Albany, a leader for a number of years and until his recent retirement from active affairs, in both legal and political circles of the State.

James K. Vardaman for a number of years has been a leader of one of the most powerful political factions in Mississippi. He served one term as governor, six years as United States senator, by Senate ratification, was elected by Senate ratification, now serving his first term. Prior to his election as governor in 1903 he was twice defeated for that office.

In 1907 he was defeated for the senatorial nomination by Senator John Sharp Williams, but he again secured election to that office before the Legislature in 1910, after the death of Senator A. J. McLaurin, but was defeated by former Senator Leroy Percy. At the end of Senator Percy's term Mr. Vardaman was elected over two opponents in a contested race by a very bitter contest.

Prior to his election as governor, Mr. Vardaman was a member of the State Legislature and was speaker of the House during one term. He served in the Spanish-American war as a captain and major in the Fifth United States Volunteers.

—All members of the Bay-Waveland Club are expected to attend Tuesday night's meeting.

—Mr. T. E. Keller was called to Jasper county Thursday by a message announcing the critical illness of her mother.

—Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Bourgeois are receiving the congratulations of their friends on the arrival of a girl baby at their home.

—Mrs. J. H. Hill, who has been spending the past month visiting at the home of his relative, Mr. Owen Crawford, and family, in Citizen street, left yesterday for Goldfield, Nevada, deeply impressed with the delights of Bay St. Louis.

—Mr. West, an experienced agricultural officer, connected with the United States Veterans' Bureau, at New Orleans, registered at the Bay Hotel yesterday. Mr. West was conferring with County Agent S. F. O'Neal. He will make Bay St. Louis his home and will seek to locate here what he calls his "nest." Mr. West is an A. M. and graduate.

—Mr. and Mrs. Sam Fuchic and interesting children are preparing to leave within the next few days for New Orleans. Mr. and Mrs. Fuchic have been spending the summer at the summer colony where the many Bay St. Louis people whose circles they have charmed so frequently in social past times. Their departure will be noted with regret.

—Mr. and Mrs. Victor Camors and family who spent the summer at the beach occupying the Gearing place on the beach front, have returned to New Orleans. While here Mrs. Camors entertained frequently and delightfully and the departure is regretted.

AN ORDINANCE.

Proceedings of the Mayor and Board of Aldermen of the City of Bay St. Louis, State of Mississippi taken at the regular meeting of the Board of Aldermen on the 21st day of September, 1922, to wit: That the Mayor and Board of Aldermen of the City of Bay St. Louis, State of Mississippi, held in session at their regular meeting on the 21st day of September, 1922, and on the 21st day of September, 1922.

There were present: Mayor R. W. Webb, Aldermen: C. C. Carver, Ben H. Gillum, Clerk Latner.

There were absent: None.

That the Mayor and Board of Aldermen having been duly convened, the following ordinance was offered by Alderman Sick and seconded by Alderman Carver:

AN ORDINANCE employing Swanson McGraw, Inc., as Consulting Engineers for the City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi.

It be it ordained, by the Mayor and Board of Aldermen of the City of Bay St. Louis, State of Mississippi, that Swanson McGraw, Inc., be and they are hereby employed to act as Consulting Engineers making all necessary test, preliminary investigations, recommendations and specifications, supervising all construction have an engineer on the ground at all times and to make final tests and reports of the completed work pertaining to Waterworks System Improvements.

That the fee to be paid for the work to be paid as follows: One per cent (1 per cent) when contract is awarded for the work; one per cent (1 per cent) thirty days after contract is awarded; one per cent (1 per cent) sixty days after contract is awarded; one per cent (1 per cent) when the completed work is tested and final report is accepted by the City. However, it is provided that if the work is not completed within the above mentioned improvement project, the City shall not be entitled to the work already done by them.

That the Mayor and Board of Aldermen of the City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, be and he is hereby authorized and directed to execute and deliver to the Swanson McGraw, Inc., with the said Swanson McGraw, Inc., for and on behalf of the City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi.

piling not being to exact grade, we find that it is utterly impossible to get piling of this size to a bare line; they have to be driven with a heavy pile hammer and the operator cannot govern his strokes to an absolute degree. Difference on the soil strata encountered also affect this, to some extent. Where the piling are let above grade they are sawed off to the proper height; but where they are driven below the grade a depression is made in the subfoundation so that the pile heads are bedded in the concrete for the proper distance. In future connection with this, we are advised by the engineers that the reinforcing was figured to be placed with reference to an axis; and that so long as correctness is approximated in this respect, no irregularity in the pile heads will affect the strength of the structure. As in case of the sheet piling, such irregularity of alignment does not influence the quantity of concrete, nor otherwise constitute a defect in construction.

10th. We note also that the committee recommendations that the contractor offers, some of which are very good, but since the various details of the plans and specifications were not thoroughly discussed and adopted at the proper time, we find that the same recommendations cannot be made applicable at this time. We will state, however, in this connection that the bulkheads suggested to be placed at the ends of the walls will be constructed as soon as possible. This work is not a part of the contract, but we can have it done as "extra work" under the provisions of the specifications. In fact, proper instructions have already been given the contractors along this line.

We also find that the engineer has employed Mr. Ferd Ramond as inspector and he is now on the work constantly. The engineers could not secure Mr. Driver for this work for the reason that he was engaged elsewhere.

Hoping that the foregoing will be satisfactory to all concerned and assuring you that we are doing all within our power to protect the interests of our city and to promote its welfare.

Bay St. Louisian Is Made General Agent at Memphis, Tenn., for the Continental Life Insurance Company, of New York—Position Lucrative One.

It is a matter of pride and gratification for The Echo to note the success of its Bay St. Louis boys of yesterday, men of today who have gone out in the world and are making rapid strides to the top of the ladder of success.

The Memphis Commercial-Appointer of a few days since publishes a picture of Henry W. Osoinach, and notes his appointment to become general agent of the New York Continental Life Insurance Company. This is a big position. It places the business of that large concern in a wide territory in the complete management of the young appointee, and under his control are hundreds of residents and traveling agents.

The Memphis paper says:

Henry W. Osoinach, secretary of the Memphis Automobile Dealers' Association, has been appointed general agent here for the Continental Life Insurance Company. He will continue as secretary and associate counsel of the auto association, however, until after the close of the motor show at the Fair Grounds, October 1.

Mr. Osoinach is a graduate of the Memphis law school. He has been active in the civic affairs of Memphis and is a member of the Chamber of Commerce and Rotary Club.

He was well acquainted with P. M. Harper, vice president of the Continental Company, formerly of Memphis, but now in St. Louis. Mr. Osoinach will have offices in the Union and Farmers' Bank Building.

Mr. Osoinach is a son of Mr. J. Mrs. John Osoinach, of Bay St. Louis.
